Activities

I am a curious and resilient person, determined and energetic, have developed strong leadership and relationship skills; I am able to manage a team (minimum average of 15 managed subjects) and achieve set goals.

I love human contact and work in teamwork but not disdain personal project; I do not like complaints and controversy, but I love confrontation and the willingness to always challenge myself.

Good and quick in writing documents.

I like to learn; I always try to accompany my career path with activities of study and learning (in 2022 I start following single courses in Padova University – Engineering).

I love traveling and getting involved in new projects.
